

Elizabeth McCulloch

Elizabeth McCulloch owns and operates Seniors Moving Smarter. She holds a Masters Degree in Social Work with extensive studies in gerontology.

"I have been passionate about working with seniors since I was 15. My experiences range from providing personal care in both private settings and nursing homes, to working as a geriatric medical social worker and an admission director for a post-acute care provider.

For over 20 years, I've been helping seniors and their families deal with major life changes. Understanding their needs and desires, supporting their families, and guiding them through the moving process gives my clients peace of mind."
